

We experience an average of 10 unwanted telemarketing calls per day. Our caller-id displays only "unknown name - unknown number" so we don't even have the opportunity to use the "call rejection" service that we purchase through our local phone company. There really needs to be a way that we can eliminate this annoying nuisance and regain our cherished privacy.